1914 BANNER YEAR FOR UNION LABOR, LEADERS DECLARE

70,000 Members Have Been Added to Ranks and Movement Has Won Several Notable Victories.

The year 1914, labor leaders say, will go down as one of the most fruitful in the history of the American labor movement. More than 70,000 members have been added to the ranks of organized labor, according to the report of Secretary Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor.

The year has not been without many bitter struggles and much suffering, as shown in the strikes in West Virginia, Michigan and Colorado. Through the work of the United States Commission on Industrial Relations employers and employes have been brought where both sides were given full opportunity to state their case before the people.

Perhaps the most significant victory for organized labor was the adoption of the labor clause in the Clayton anti-trust law, declaring that labor henceforward was immune from prosecution under the law.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, termed the new provision "the charter of Industrial freedom." From the practical point of view the greatest accomplishment of the labor movement has been the organization of the unakilled workers of the country, a course which the 1914 convention of the American Federation of Labor, held in this city, determined to pursue with still greater vigor during the coming year.

It is believed by many the year 1914 has also been characterized by the eclipse of the I. W. W. movement as a factor in the American labor movement.

the American labor movement.

Many adherents of the I. W. W. are said to have returned to the fold of the American Federation of Labor.

A significant phenomenon of the labor movement during the year har been the growth of political acumen and political action among the rank and file.

In this progress Philadelphia has played a prominent part. The labor forward movement, under the direction of the American Federation of Labor and the local unions, has added many members to the ranks of organized labor bers. too ranks of organized labor here.

The convention here was the third in the history of the Federation to be held in this city. The unions were given official recognition by the city by the ap-propriation of $35,000 by Councils to de-fray the expenses of the convention and the entertainment of the delegates. In the words of Samuel Gompers:

"The year 1914 will go down as a banner year in the history of the labor movement in America. Despite the many struggles despite the tremendous amount of work that is still to be done, we are moving forward and will continue to do so until our goal is reached, when there shall be no more strikes and no more strife and When economic justice and industrial de-mocracy shall complete the purpose for which the American Republic has been formed—liberty."

APPEAL FOR 960 CHILDREN WHO NEED WARM CLOTHING

Chief of Compulsory Education Bureau Asks Donations From Charitable.

An effort to provide Christmas cheer for the 960 children of this city who are unable to attend school because they lack adequate clothing is being made by Henry J. Gideon, chief of the Bureau of Com pulsory Education, who has appointed the Union Benevolent Association, 716 Spruce atreet, distributing agent for contributions to be devoted to these cases.

Mr. Gidson points out that no time could be more opportune for such donations. Reports from the attendance officers show that children hitherto regular in attendance are forced to remain huddled in gold rooms, having neither shoes, coats nor hats to enable them to face the winter weather. In many cases all furniture and bedding has been disposed of in order that food might be purchased. Mr. Gideon emphasizes the fact that the clothing donated need not be new to be useful, the essential point being where the which will not only relieve the actual physical suffering, but do much to check the rapid inroads being made by disease among these families.

FIRE IN WAIST FACTORY

Blaze in Spring Garden Street Building Causes $5000 Loss. Fire in the four-story brick building at 301 Spring Garden street, occupied by Max Manson & Sons, manufacturers of walsts and blankets, caused $5000 loss this morning.

The fire, which burned for more than an abour, started in the basement and raced up the elevator shaft. A large stock of goods was destroyed.

Hawker—No, and yer wouldn't like the look of yerself, missus, if you'd been chivvied abaht by submarines ever since the war started.

The wife of a university professor was recently converted from utter indiffer-ence to suffrage to ardent support of the ence to suffrage to ardent support of the cause. As the cultured women was consing downtown she heard the conversation of two laborers engaged in digning up the street. "What do you think about the question of women votin?" asked one. "Oh, everybody knows that wimmin ain't got sense ensigh to vote," answered the other. It was enough for the lady. She is now a suffragist.—Exchange.
